Points of Difference:

- Any design or photograph can be printed.
- More economical for smaller quantities with multi-colored artwork.
- All construction is dual ply.
- No set-up costs.
- Outdoor marine acrylic is warranted for up to 10 years yet the dye process will fade over time.

Screen Print Sunbrella Marine Grade

Print Process: Screen Print.

Uses: Light Pole Banners, Heavy Duty Crowd Barricade Covers.

Features: Durability. Marine grade outdoor fabric.

Construction: Single ply for dark colored fabrics, dual ply for light colored fabrics.

Print Process: Screen print. Only spot color designs can be printed.

No process colorwork.

Inks: UV plastisol with 400 degree cure.

Features:

- Marine acrylic is used to make awnings and light pole banners.
- A solid color fabric is imaged with spot colors using traditional screen print production processes, laying one color down per screen.
- A desired colored background is selected and the design is created to print on the surface of that fabric color.
- There are approximately 100 colors available that can be viewed in our catalog. www.projectgraphics.com/catalog.
- Lifespan up to 5 years outdoors.

Points of Difference:

- Limited to spot color graphics with simple gradients.
- More economical at higher volume production due to set up fees based on colors in your design.
- Banners are durable and color fast. Long lasting.
